ANNOUNCEMENTS AND SPECIAL NOTICES

IMPORT STATISTICS TO BE PRESENTED IN TERMS OF THE 177 THREE-DIGIT SITC COMMODITY GROUPS

In the August 1962 issue of this report, it was announced that, beginning with the statistics for January 1963, Report No. FT 120, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Country of Origin by Subgroup would present commodity data in terms of the 177 three-digit commodity groups of the U.N. Standard International Trade Classification (SITC). Beginning on page ii of this report are reference listings which show the particular three-digit SITC group under which each Schedule A number is located and which Schedule A commodities are grouped under each three-digit SITC group.

As indicated in the August 1962 issue of this report, a printed report will be transmitted to all recipients of the regular Foreign Trade Import publications presenting 1962 monthly data in the following arrangements:

1. Three-digit SITC Commodity Group by Country of Origin

2. Country of Origin by three-digit SITC Commodity Group

These reports are being prepared in order to provide users with 1962 data in terms of SITC. In addition, monthly and annual reference tabulations for 1962 will be prepared for imports on a three-digit SITC Commodity Group by Schedule A Commodity by Country of Origin basis.

CORRELATION BETWEEN SCHEDULE A COMMODITY NUMBERS AND SITC REVISED CLASSIFICATION NUMBERS

The following table presents each Schedule A commodity number in effect January 1, 1963 and the assigned SITC Revised group (3-digit) number. In some cases a Schedule A code contains merchandise which should be classified in two or more SITC codes. In such cases the assignment of SITC group codes was made on the basis of the composition of the Schedule A code with a determination of its principal content. This results in some SITC codes having no assigned Schedule A codes and some SITC codes being either overcounted or undercounted.

CORRELATION BETWEEN SITC REVISED CLASSIFICATION NUMBERS AND SCHEDULE A COMMODITY NUMBERS

(The following table presents the SITC Revised group (3-digit) classification numbers to which Schedule A commodity numbers in effect as of January 1, 1963, are assigned. In some cases a Schedule A code contains merchandise which should be classified in two or more SITC codes. In such cases the assignment of SITC group codes was made on the basis of the composition of the Schedule A code with a determination of its principal content. This results in some SITC codes having no assigned Schedule A codes and some SITC codes being either overcounted or undercounted.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for intransit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouse), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouse for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouse.

Monthly Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment.

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouse, bonded manufacturing warehouse, and bonded smelting and refining warehouse immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985. Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is

---

[1] For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

[2] For information on the effects of examiner verification see the article entitled "Level of Accuracy in Import Statistics" in the October 1961 issue of this report.

corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

(a) Country Definitions - Economic. The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country of shipment. (For individual Schedule A commodities, such countries are footnoted in Report No. FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium from countries which, for security reasons, can not be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

(b) Country Definitions - Geographic. The geographic definitions of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as part of Schedule A (see "SITC Commodity Group Information," below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents of this report, which lists the countries in Schedule C order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries. The omission of a country name from this report indicates that there were no formal entry shipments valued $100 or over included in the statistics for the country and no low-valued shipments from the country were selected in the one-percent sample. See "Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis" below.

(c) Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis. The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports (under $250) reported on informal entries. (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis.

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

If the number of documents indicated from the sample is:	Then the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a value figure between

[1]The actual value of shipments cannot be less than 1/100 of the estimated amount shown in the report. Figures in this column can be ignored if use of them for a particular total would bring the lower limit below 1/100 of the estimate.

[2]If the number of documents in the sample is greater than 499, sampling variability for the estimates of the low valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line 40-49, one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

In order that users may always be informed of the amount of the LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST for each country, this group is always shown separately and is not subject to the combining procedure which applies to other groups when values are less than $10,000. (See "SITC Commodity Group Information," below.) The omission of an estimate of the low valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

(a) Commodity information summarized into SITC groups. Effective with the statistics for January 1963, the commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. This commodity information, in SITC section by SITC group order, represents the summarization of data originally compiled according to the classifications in Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States. The table beginning on page 8 of this report shows the SITC section and group codes and their descriptions, along with import value totals for these classifications. This table replaces the table containing commodity group and subgroup information which appeared in previous issues of this report. The January 1963 issue of this report also contains lists showing the correlation between the SITC and Schedule A classes in the following arrangements: (a) in Schedule A commodity number order showing the SITC group code for each Schedule A number and (b) in the order of the SITC group codes showing the Schedule A commodity numbers included in the SITC groups. It should be noted that in relating the Schedule

A classifications to the Standard International Trade Classification there were instances where, because of differences in these two classification systems, it was necessary to assign some Schedule A commodity numbers to SITC groups on the basis of judgment. In some cases a Schedule A commodity number includes items which should be classified in two or more SITC codes. In such cases the assignment of the SITC group code was made on the basis of the composition of the Schedule A classification with a judgment of its principal content. As a result, there are some SITC codes to which no Schedule A commodity numbers have been assigned. In addition, there are some SITC codes which may be either overcounted or undercounted. In terms of the dollar value of the trade in the three-digit SITC groups, the overcounting or undercounting is not believed to be important. Copies of the above-mentioned correlation lists and the table containing SITC section and group codes and descriptions (but without the value data) may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations, New York, 1961 - Series M., No. 34). For definition of individual Schedule A commodity classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to Schedule A.

(b) Data on SITC basis for periods prior to 1963. With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC section by SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC section by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations. The 1962 monthly data in the publication and in the machine tabulation do not include any revisions made subsequent to the release of the original monthly statistics but revisions to these statistics are presented as a supplement. The 1962 annual data in the publication and in the machine tabulation reflect all revisions published with the 1962 monthly statistics. Additional information regarding these 1962 statistics in SITC arrangement and information concerning the availability of data for prior periods in terms of the SITC classifications may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

(c) SITC groups less than $10,000 not shown separately. To save printing costs, complete country by SITC group information is not shown in this report. For each country, separate information is shown only for those SITC groups whose individual totals for that country during the period covered by the report were $10,000 or more. Imports from each country of commodities falling in groups with individual totals of less than $10,000 for that country are presented as a combined total for each SITC section. Individual SITC group information for imports reported in these combined totals will be supplied upon request. A charge may be made to cover the cost of preparing this detailed information. The omission of an SITC group under any country indicates no imports from that country or imports valued less than $10,000, with the exception of those SITC groups for which statistics are not compiled or shown separately. (See "Commodity information summarized into SITC groups" above and the SITC/Schedule A correlation lists.)

(d) Low-value shipments excluded from SITC commodity group data. Effective January 1958 through December 1962, the commodity subgroups which were shown in this report (with the exception of subgroup 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST") excluded information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). Effective January 1963, the individual SITC commodity groups (except group 990) also exclude data on the above-mentioned types of shipments and, in addition, they exclude data on warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups (other than group 990) are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. The estimates are shown for each country under group code 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST," and are included in the Section 9 total, the country total and the over-all import total in this report. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin," above), these estimates may be of interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Descriptions of the special handling of low-valued shipments in effect prior to January 1958 are included in the publications for those periods. The January 1958 through December 1961 issues of this report contain a discussion of the effect on statistics of the changes made in January 1958 in the handling of low-valued shipments, and a brief summary of the handling in earlier periods.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) A Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications is also available. Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included in current issues of this report and other statistical publications, or in special announcements accompanying the regular publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For free copies of the catalog or for further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample [shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk ()] to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample [shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk ()] to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample [shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk ()] to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample [shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk ()] to determine the reliability of the estimate.

United States import statistics are compiled from information verified by Customs Examiners on import entries filed with Customs by importers. Under the direction of Philip Nichols, Jr., Commissioner of Customs, and David B. Strubinger, Assistant Commissioner of Customs, the primary responsibility for the verification of import statistical information is assigned to the field and headquarters staff of the Division of Appraisement Administration.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for intransit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouse), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouse for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouse.

Monthly Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment.

[1]For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouse, bonded manufacturing warehouse, and bonded smelting and refining warehouse immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985. Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

(a) Country Definitions - Economic. The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country of shipment. (For individual Schedule A commodities, such countries are footnoted in Report No. FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium from countries which, for security reasons, can not be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

(b) Country Definitions - Geographic. The geographic definitions of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as part of Schedule A (see "SITC Commodity Group Information," below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents of this report, which lists the countries in Schedule C order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries. The omission of a country name from this report indicates that there were no formal entry shipments valued $100 or over included in the statistics for the country and no low-valued shipments from the country were selected in the one-percent sample. See "Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis" below.

(c) Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis. The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports (under $250) reported on informal entries. (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis.

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

If the number of documents indicated from the sample is:	Then the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a value figure between

[1]The actual value of shipments cannot be less than 1/100 of the estimated amount shown in the report. Figures in this column can be ignored if use of them for a particular total would bring the lower limit below 1/100 of the estimate.

[2]If the number of documents in the sample is greater than 499, sampling variability for the estimates of the low valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line 40-49, one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

In order that users may always be informed of the amount of the LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST for each country, this group is always shown separately and is not subject to the combining procedure which applies to other groups when values are less than $10,000. (See "SITC Commodity Group Information," below.) The omission of an estimate of the low valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

(a) Commodity information summarized into SITC groups. Effective with the statistics for January 1963, the commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. This commodity information, in SITC section by SITC group order, represents the summarization of data originally compiled according to the classifications in Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States. The table beginning on page 8 of this report shows the SITC section and group codes and their descriptions, along with import value totals for these classifications. This table replaces the table containing commodity group and subgroup information which appeared in previous issues of this report. The January 1963 issue of this report also contains lists showing the correlation between the SITC and Schedule A classes in the following arrangements: (a) in Schedule A commodity number order showing the SITC group code for each Schedule A number and (b) in the order of the SITC group codes showing the Schedule A commodity numbers included in the SITC groups. It should be noted that in relating the Schedule

A classifications to the Standard International Trade Classification there were instances where, because of differences in these two classification systems, it was necessary to assign some Schedule A commodity numbers to SITC groups on the basis of judgment. In some cases a Schedule A commodity number includes items which should be classified in two or more SITC codes. In such cases the assignment of the SITC group code was made on the basis of the composition of the Schedule A classification with a judgment of its principal content. As a result, there are some SITC codes to which no Schedule A commodity numbers have been assigned. In addition, there are some SITC codes which may be either overcounted or undercounted. In terms of the dollar value of the trade in the three-digit SITC groups, the overcounting or undercounting is not believed to be important. Copies of the above-mentioned correlation lists and the table containing SITC section and group codes and descriptions (but without the value data) may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations, New York, 1961 - Series M., No. 34). For definition of individual Schedule A commodity classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to Schedule A.

(b) Data on SITC basis for periods prior to 1963. With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC section by SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC section by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations. The 1962 monthly data in the publication and in the machine tabulation do not include any revisions made subsequent to the release of the original monthly statistics but revisions to these statistics are presented as a supplement. The 1962 annual data in the publication and in the machine tabulation reflect all revisions published with the 1962 monthly statistics. Additional information regarding these 1962 statistics in SITC arrangement and information concerning the availability of data for prior periods in terms of the SITC classifications may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

(c) SITC groups less than $10,000 not shown separately. To save printing costs, complete country by SITC group information is not shown in this report. For each country, separate information is shown only for those SITC groups whose individual totals for that country during the period covered by the report were $10,000 or more. Imports from each country of commodities falling in groups with individual totals of less than $10,000 for that country are presented as a combined total for each SITC section. Individual SITC group information for imports reported in these combined totals will be supplied upon request. A charge may be made to cover the cost of preparing this detailed information. The omission of an SITC group under any country indicates no imports from that country or imports valued less than $10,000, with the exception of those SITC groups for which statistics are not compiled or shown separately. (See "Commodity information summarized into SITC groups" above and the SITC/Schedule A correlation lists.)

(d) Low-value shipments excluded from SITC commodity group data. Effective January 1958 through December 1962, the commodity subgroups which were shown in this report (with the exception of subgroup 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST") excluded information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). Effective January 1963, the individual SITC commodity groups (except group 990) also exclude data on the above-mentioned types of shipments and, in addition, they exclude data on warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups (other than group 990) are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. The estimates are shown for each country under group code 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST," and are included in the Section 9 total, the country total and the over-all import total in this report. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin," above), these estimates may be of interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Descriptions of the special handling of low-valued shipments in effect prior to January 1958 are included in the publications for those periods. The January 1958 through December 1961 issues of this report contain a discussion of the effect on statistics of the changes made in January 1958 in the handling of low-valued shipments, and a brief summary of the handling in earlier periods.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) A Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications is also available. Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included in current issues of this report and other statistical publications, or in special announcements accompanying the regular publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For free copies of the catalog or for further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 99D are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$25D and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

United States import statistics are compiled from information verified by Customs Examiners on import entries filed with Customs by importers. Under the direction of Philip Nichols, Jr., Commissioner of Customs, and David B. Strubinger, Assistant Commissioner of Customs, the primary responsibility for the verification of import statistical information is assigned to the field and headquarters staff of the Division of Appraisement Administration.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for intransit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouse), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouse for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouse.

Monthly Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment.

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouse, bonded manufacturing warehouse, and bonded smelting and refining warehouse immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985. Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is

[1] For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

[2] For information on the effects of examiner verification see the article entitled "Level of Accuracy in Import Statistics" in the October 1961 issue of this report.

corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

(a) Country Definitions - Economic. The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country of shipment. (For individual Schedule A commodities, such countries are footnoted in Report No. FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium from countries which, for security reasons, can not be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

(b) Country Definitions - Geographic. The geographic definitions of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as part of Schedule A (see "SITC Commodity Group Information," below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents of this report, which lists the countries in Schedule C order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries. The omission of a country name from this report indicates that there were no formal entry shipments valued $100 or over included in the statistics for the country and no low-valued shipments from the country were selected in the one-percent sample. See "Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis" below.

(c) Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis. The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports (under $250) reported on informal entries. (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis.

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

If the number of documents indicated from the sample is:	Then the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a value figure between

[2]400-499	261,120	273,000

[1]The actual value of shipments cannot be less than 1/100 of the estimated amount shown in the report. Figures in this column can be ignored if use of them for a particular total would bring the lower limit below 1/100 of the estimate.

[2]If the number of documents in the sample is greater than 499, sampling variability for the estimates of the low valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line 40-49, one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

In order that users may always be informed of the amount of the LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST for each country, this group is always shown separately and is not subject to the combining procedure which applies to other groups when values are less than $10,000. (See "SITC Commodity Group Information," below.) The omission of an estimate of the low valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

(a) Commodity information summarized into SITC groups. Effective with the statistics for January 1963, the commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. This commodity information, in SITC section by SITC group order, represents the summarization of data originally compiled according to the classifications in Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States. The table beginning on page 8 of this report shows the SITC section and group codes and their descriptions, along with import value totals for these classifications. This table replaces the table containing commodity group and subgroup information which appeared in previous issues of this report. The January 1963 issue of this report also contains lists showing the correlation between the SITC and Schedule A classes in the following arrangements: (a) in Schedule A commodity number order showing the SITC group code for each Schedule A number and (b) in the order of the SITC group codes showing the Schedule A commodity numbers included in the SITC groups. It should be noted that in relating the Schedule

A classifications to the Standard International Trade Classification there were instances where, because of differences in these two classification systems, it was necessary to assign some Schedule A commodity numbers to SITC groups on the basis of judgment. In some cases a Schedule A commodity number includes items which should be classified in two or more SITC codes. In such cases the assignment of the SITC group code was made on the basis of the composition of the Schedule A classification with a judgment of its principal content. As a result, there are some SITC codes to which no Schedule A commodity numbers have been assigned. In addition, there are some SITC codes which may be either overcounted or undercounted. In terms of the dollar value of the trade in the three-digit SITC groups, the overcounting or undercounting is not believed to be important. Copies of the above-mentioned correlation lists and the table containing SITC section and group codes and descriptions (but without the value data) may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations, New York, 1961 - Series M., No. 34). For definition of individual Schedule A commodity classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to Schedule A.

(b) Data on SITC basis for periods prior to 1963. With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC section by SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC section by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations. The 1962 monthly data in the publication and in the machine tabulation do not include any revisions made subsequent to the release of the original monthly statistics but revisions to these statistics are presented as a supplement. The 1962 annual data in the publication and in the machine tabulation reflect all revisions published with the 1962 monthly statistics. Additional information regarding these 1962 statistics in SITC arrangement and information concerning the availability of data for prior periods in terms of the SITC classifications may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

(c) SITC groups less than $10,000 not shown separately. To save printing costs, complete country by SITC group information is not shown in this report. For each country, separate information is shown only for those SITC groups whose individual totals for that country during the period covered by the report were $10,000 or more. Imports from each country of commodities falling in groups with individual totals of less than $10,000 for that country are presented as a combined total for each SITC section. Individual SITC group information for imports reported in these combined totals will be supplied upon request. A charge may be made to cover the cost of preparing this detailed information. The omission of an SITC group under any country indicates no imports from that country or imports valued less than $10,000, with the exception of those SITC groups for which statistics are not compiled or shown separately. (See "Commodity information summarized into SITC groups" above and the SITC/Schedule A correlation lists.)

(d) Low-value shipments excluded from SITC commodity group data. Effective January 1958 through December 1962, the commodity subgroups which were shown in this report (with the exception of subgroup 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST") excluded information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). Effective January 1963, the individual SITC commodity groups (except group 990) also exclude data on the above-mentioned types of shipments and, in addition, they exclude data on warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups (other than group 990) are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. The estimates are shown for each country under group code 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST," and are included in the Section 9 total, the country total and the over-all import total in this report. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin," above), these estimates may be of interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Descriptions of the special handling of low-valued shipments in effect prior to January 1958 are included in the publications for those periods. The January 1958 through December 1961 issues of this report contain a discussion of the effect on statistics of the changes made in January 1958 in the handling of low-valued shipments, and a brief summary of the handling in earlier periods.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) A Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications is also available. Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included in current issues of this report and other statistical publications, or in special announcements accompanying the regular publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For free copies of the catalog or for further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

United States import statistics are compiled from information verified by Customs Examiners on import entries filed with Customs by importers. Under the direction of Philip Nichols, Jr., Commissioner of Customs, and David B. Strubinger, Assistant Commissioner of Customs, the primary responsibility for the verification of import statistical information is assigned to the field and headquarters staff of the Division of Appraisement Administration.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for intransit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouse), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouse for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouse.

Monthly Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment.

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouse, bonded manufacturing warehouse, and bonded smelting and refining warehouse immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985. Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is

---

[1] For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

[2] For information on the effects of examiner verification see the article entitled "Level of Accuracy in Import Statistics" in the October 1961 issue of this report.

corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

(a) Country Definitions - Economic. The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country of shipment. (For individual Schedule A commodities, such countries are footnoted in Report No. FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium from countries which, for security reasons, can not be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

(b) Country Definitions - Geographic. The geographic definitions of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as part of Schedule A (see "SITC Commodity Group Information," below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents of this report, which lists the countries in Schedule C order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries. The omission of a country name from this report indicates that there were no formal entry shipments valued $100 or over included in the statistics for the country and no low-valued shipments from the country were selected in the one-percent sample. See "Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis" below.

(c) Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis. The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports (under $250) reported on informal entries. (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis.

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

If the number of documents indicated from the sample is:	Then the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a value figure between

[1]The actual value of shipments cannot be less than 1/100 of the estimated amount shown in the report. Figures in this column can be ignored if use of them for o particular total would bring the lower limit below 1/100 of the estimate.

[2]If the number of documents in the sample is greater than 499, sampling variability for the estimates of the low valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line 40-49, one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

In order that users may always be informed of the amount of the LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST for each country, this group is always shown separately and is not subject to the combining procedure which applies to other groups when values are less than $10,000. (See "SITC Commodity Group Information," below.) The omission of an estimate of the low valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

(a) Commodity information summarized into SITC groups. Effective with the statistics for January 1963, the commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. This commodity information, in SITC section by SITC group order, represents the summarization of data originally compiled according to the classifications in Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States. The table beginning on page 8 of this report shows the SITC section and group codes and their descriptions, along with import value totals for these classifications. This table replaces the table containing commodity group and subgroup information which appeared in previous issues of this report. The January 1963 issue of this report also contains lists showing the correlation between the SITC and Schedule A classes in the following arrangements: (a) in Schedule A commodity number order showing the SITC group code for each Schedule A number and (b) in the order of the SITC group codes showing the Schedule A commodity numbers included in the SITC groups. It should be noted that in relating the Schedule

A classifications to the Standard International Trade Classification there were instances where, because of differences in these two classification systems, it was necessary to assign some Schedule A commodity numbers to SITC groups on the basis of judgment. In some cases a Schedule A commodity number includes items which should be classified in two or more SITC codes. In such cases the assignment of the SITC group code was made on the basis of the composition of the Schedule A classification with a judgment of its principal content. As a result, there are some SITC codes to which no Schedule A commodity numbers have been assigned. In addition, there are some SITC codes which may be either overcounted or undercounted. In terms of the dollar value of the trade in the three-digit SITC groups, the overcounting or undercounting is not believed to be important. Copies of the above-mentioned correlation lists and the table containing SITC section and group codes and descriptions (but without the value data) may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations, New York, 1961 - Series M., No. 34). For definition of individual Schedule A commodity classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to Schedule A.

(b) Data on SITC basis for periods prior to 1963. With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC section by SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC section by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations. The 1962 monthly data in the publication and in the machine tabulation do not include any revisions made subsequent to the release of the original monthly statistics but revisions to these statistics are presented as a supplement. The 1962 annual data in the publication and in the machine tabulation reflect all revisions published with the 1962 monthly statistics. Additional information regarding these 1962 statistics in SITC arrangement and information concerning the availability of data for prior periods in terms of the SITC classifications may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

(c) SITC groups less than $10,000 not shown separately. To save printing costs, complete country by SITC group information is not shown in this report. For each country, separate information is shown only for those SITC groups whose individual totals for that country during the period covered by the report were $10,000 or more. Imports from each country of commodities falling in groups with individual totals of less than $10,000 for that country are presented as a combined total for each SITC section. Individual SITC group information for imports reported in these combined totals will be supplied upon request. A charge may be made to cover the cost of preparing this detailed information. The omission of an SITC group under any country indicates no imports from that country or imports valued less than $10,000, with the exception of those SITC groups for which statistics are not compiled or shown separately. (See "Commodity information summarized into SITC groups" above and the SITC/Schedule A correlation lists.)

(d) Low-value shipments excluded from SITC commodity group data. Effective January 1958 through December 1962, the commodity subgroups which were shown in this report (with the exception of subgroup 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST") excluded information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). Effective January 1963, the individual SITC commodity groups (except group 990) also exclude data on the above-mentioned types of shipments and, in addition, they exclude data on warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups (other than group 990) are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. The estimates are shown for each country under group code 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST," and are included in the Section 9 total, the country total and the over-all import total in this report. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin," above), these estimates may be of interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Descriptions of the special handling of low-valued shipments in effect prior to January 1958 are included in the publications for those periods. The January 1958 through December 1961 issues of this report contain a discussion of the effect on statistics of the changes made in January 1958 in the handling of low-valued shipments, and a brief summary of the handling in earlier periods.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) A Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications is also available. Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included in current issues of this report and other statistical publications, or in special announcements accompanying the regular publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For free copies of the catalog or for further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

United States import statistics are compiled from information verified by Customs Examiners on import entries filed with Customs by importers. Under the direction of Philip Nichols, Jr., Commissioner of Customs, and David B. Strubinger, Assistant Commissioner of Customs, the primary responsibility for the verification of import statistical information is assigned to the field and headquarters staff of the Division of Appraisement Administration.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for intransit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouse), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouse for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouse.

Monthly Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment.

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouse, bonded manufacturing warehouse, and bonded smelting and refining warehouse immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985. Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is

[1] For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

[2] For information on the effects of examiner verification see the article entitled "Level of Accuracy in Import Statistics" in the October 1961 issue of this report.

corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

(a) Country Definitions - Economic. The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country of shipment. (For individual Schedule A commodities, such countries are footnoted in Report No. FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium from countries which, for security reasons, can not be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

(b) Country Definitions - Geographic. The geographic definitions of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as part of Schedule A (see "SITC Commodity Group Information," below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents of this report, which lists the countries in Schedule C order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries. The omission of a country name from this report indicates that there were no formal entry shipments valued $100 or over included in the statistics for the country and no low-valued shipments from the country were selected in the one-percent sample. See "Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis" below.

(c) Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis. The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports (under $250) reported on informal entries. (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis.

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

If the number of documents indicoted from the sample is:	Then the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a value figure between

[1]The actual value of shipments cannot be less than 1/100 of the estimated amount shown in the report. Figures in this column can be ignored if use of them for a particular total would bring the lower limit below 1/100 of the estimate.

[2]If the number of documents in the sample is greater than 499, sampling variability for the estimates of the low valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line 40-49, one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

In order that users may always be informed of the amount of the LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST for each country, this group is always shown separately and is not subject to the combining procedure which applies to other groups when values are less than $10,000. (See "SITC Commodity Group Information," below.) The omission of an estimate of the low valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

(a) Commodity information summarized into SITC groups. Effective with the statistics for January 1963, the commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. This commodity information, in SITC section by SITC group order, represents the summarization of data originally compiled according to the classifications in Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States. The table beginning on page 8 of this report shows the SITC section and group codes and their descriptions, along with import value totals for these classifications. This table replaces the table containing commodity group and subgroup information which appeared in previous issues of this report. The January 1963 issue of this report also contains lists showing the correlation between the SITC and Schedule A classes in the following arrangements: (a) in Schedule A commodity number order showing the SITC group code for each Schedule A number and (b) in the order of the SITC group codes showing the Schedule A commodity numbers included in the SITC groups. It should be noted that in relating the Schedule

A classifications to the Standard International Trade Classification there were instances where, because of differences in these two classification systems, it was necessary to assign some Schedule A commodity numbers to SITC groups on the basis of judgment. In some cases a Schedule A commodity number includes items which should be classified in two or more SITC codes. In such cases the assignment of the SITC group code was made on the basis of the composition of the Schedule A classification with a judgment of its principal content. As a result, there are some SITC codes to which no Schedule A commodity numbers have been assigned. In addition, there are some SITC codes which may be either overcounted or undercounted. In terms of the dollar value of the trade in the three-digit SITC groups, the overcounting or undercounting is not believed to be important. Copies of the above-mentioned correlation lists and the table containing SITC section and group codes and descriptions (but without the value data) may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations, New York, 1961 - Series M., No. 34). For definition of individual Schedule A commodity classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to Schedule A.

(b) Data on SITC basis for periods prior to 1963. With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC section by SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC section by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations. The 1962 monthly data in the publication and in the machine tabulation do not include any revisions made subsequent to the release of the original monthly statistics but revisions to these statistics are presented as a supplement. The 1962 annual data in the publication and in the machine tabulation reflect all revisions published with the 1962 monthly statistics. Additional information regarding these 1962 statistics in SITC arrangement and information concerning the availability of data for prior periods in terms of the SITC classifications may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

(c) SITC groups less than $10,000 not shown separately. To save printing costs, complete country by SITC group information is not shown in this report. For each country, separate information is shown only for those SITC groups whose individual totals for that country during the period covered by the report were $10,000 or more. Imports from each country of commodities falling in groups with individual totals of less than $10,000 for that country are presented as a combined total for each SITC section. Individual SITC group information for imports reported in these combined totals will be supplied upon request. A charge may be made to cover the cost of preparing this detailed information. The omission of an SITC group under any country indicates no imports from that country or imports valued less than $10,000, with the exception of those SITC groups for which statistics are not compiled or shown separately. (See "Commodity information summarized into SITC groups" above and the SITC/Schedule A correlation lists.)

(d) Low-value shipments excluded from SITC commodity group data. Effective January 1958 through December 1962, the commodity subgroups which were shown in this report (with the exception of subgroup 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST") excluded information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). Effective January 1963, the individual SITC commodity groups (except group 990) also exclude data on the above-mentioned types of shipments and, in addition, they exclude data on warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups (other than group 990) are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. The estimates are shown for each country under group code 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST," and are included in the Section 9 total, the country total and the over-all import total in this report. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin," above), these estimates may be of interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Descriptions of the special handling of low-valued shipments in effect prior to January 1958 are included in the publications for those periods. The January 1958 through December 1961 issues of this report contain a discussion of the effect on statistics of the changes made in January 1958 in the handling of low-valued shipments, and a brief summary of the handling in earlier periods.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) A Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications is also available. Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included in current issues of this report and other statistical publications, or in special announcements accompanying the regular publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For free copies of the catalog or for further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 99D are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$25D and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

United States import statistics are compiled from information verified by Customs Examiners on import entries filed with Customs by importers. Under the direction of Philip Nichols, Jr., Commissioner of Customs, and David B. Strubinger, Assistant Commissioner of Customs, the primary responsibility for the verification of import statistical information is assigned to the field and headquarters staff of the Division of Appraisement Administration.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND SPECIAL NOTICES

UNITED STATES IMPORT AND EXPORT STATISTICS COMPILED IN TERMS OF THE STANDARD INTERNATIONAL TRADE CLASSIFICATION REVISED

The United Nations requested that beginning with calendar year 1962 statistics, the United States supply its trade data in terms of the full five digit items of the Standard International Trade Classification (SITC), Revised. A review of the SITC and Schedule A (import) and B (export) classification systems was made and it was found that the Schedules A and B classifications were convertible to about 700 and 600 SITC items, respectively. Accordingly, the United States has compiled its trade figures for calendar year 1962 in tabular form in terms of five digit SITC items where readily convertible and four digit SITC subgroups where it was not possible to convert to the fifth digit. The tabulations and the locations at which they are available for reference use are as follows:

A. Tabulations:

1. UN-206—United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, SITC Section by SITC Division by SITC Group by SITC Subgroup by Selected SITC Item by Schedule A Commodity Number. Calendar year data only.
2. UN-OECD-208—United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, SITC Section by SITC Division by SITC Group by SITC Subgroup by Selected SITC Item by Country of Origin. Calendar year 1962 and quarterly data thereafter.
3. UN-506—United States Exports of Domestic Merchandise, SITC Section by SITC Division by SITC Group by SITC Subgroup by Selected SITC Item by Schedule B Commodity Number. Calendar year data only.
4. UN-OECD-508—United States Exports of Domestic Merchandise, SITC Section by SITC Division by SITC Group by SITC Subgroup by Selected SITC Item by Country of Destination. Calendar year 1962 and quarterly data thereafter.

The principal effort at convertibility of Schedules A and B to the SITC has been, and is, to have a high degree of convertibility to the 177 three digit SITC groups. Schedules A and B have been revised at times over the years to improve convertibility to the 177 groups. Furthermore, an attempt has been made to avoid revision of Schedules A and B which would decrease convertibility to the three digit SITC groups. Therefore, the degree of error in convertibility at the three digit level is believed to be small in terms of the dollar value of the trade involved. Convertibility to the four digit SITC subgroup, however, has been made only within the limits of the Schedules A and B detail with the result that there have been a number of instances of "forcing" when a Schedule A or B commodity classification covering trade classifiable under two or more SITC subgroups has been assigned to an individual SITC subgroup on the basis of estimated "principal value component" criteria. The relative error in the conversion to the four digit SITC subgroups is therefore greater than that resulting from the conversion to the three digit SITC group level.

IMPORT COMMODITY STATISTICS TO BE IN TERMS OF TARIFF SCHEDULES OF THE UNITED STATES EFFECTIVE SEPTEMBER 1963

The Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA), an official publication of the United States Tariff Commission embracing the legal text of the Tariff Schedules of the United States together with statistical annotation, became effective on August 31, 1963. Beginning on that date, TSUSA replaced United States Import Duties Annotated as the basic statistical reporting manual used in preparing import entry and withdrawal forms for merchandise imported into the United States.

Effective with statistics for September 1963, this document will also replace Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States, as the basic reference manual for use in interpreting the published data since all import commodity statistics for September and subsequent months are to be tabulated and published in terms of TSUSA.

Presentation of data in the September 1963 and subsequent issues of Report FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Conumption, Commodity by Country of Origin, will be in terms of the TSUSA within each of the 177 three-digit commodity groups of the United Nations Standard International Trade Classification (SITC). There will be no change, however, in the presentation of data in Report FT 120, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Country of Origin by SITC Commodity Group.

It is planned that tables will be issued concurrently with the September statistics which will show the TSUSA classifications within each SITC group, and for each TSUSA classification the SITC group in which it is included. Plans for other correlation tables will be announced in subsequent issues of this report.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for intransit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouse), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouse for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouse.

Monthly Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment.

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouse, bonded manufacturing warehouse, and bonded smelting and refining warehouse immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985. Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is

---

[1] For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

[2] For information on the effects of examiner verification see the article entitled "Level of Accuracy in Import Statistics" in the October 1961 issue of this report.

corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

(a) Country Definitions - Economic. The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country of shipment. (For individual Schedule A commodities, such countries are footnoted in Report No. FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium from countries which, for security reasons, can not be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

(b) Country Definitions - Geographic. The geographic definitions of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as part of Schedule A (see "SITC Commodity Group Information," below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents of this report, which lists the countries in Schedule C order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries. The omission of a country name from this report indicates that there were no formal entry shipments valued $100 or over included in the statistics for the country and no low-valued shipments from the country were selected in the one-percent sample. See "Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis" below.

(c) Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis. The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports (under $250) reported on informal entries. (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis.

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

If the number of documents indicated from the sample is:	Then the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a value figure between

[2]400-499	261,120	273,000

[1]The actual value of shipments cannot be less than 1/100 of the estimated amount shown in the report. Figures in this column can be ignored if use of them for a particular total would bring the lower limit below 1/100 of the estimate.

[2]If the number of documents in the sample is greater than 499, sampling variability for the estimates of the low valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line 40-49, one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

In order that users may always be informed of the amount of the LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST for each country, this group is always shown separately and is not subject to the combining procedure which applies to other groups when values are less than $10,000. (See "SITC Commodity Group Information," below.) The omission of an estimate of the low valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

(a) Commodity information summarized into SITC groups. Effective with the statistics for January 1963, the commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. This commodity information, in SITC section by SITC group order, represents the summarization of data originally compiled according to the classifications in Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States. The table beginning on page 8 of this report shows the SITC section and group codes and their descriptions, along with import value totals for these classifications. This table replaces the table containing commodity group and subgroup information which appeared in previous issues of this report. The January 1963 issue of this report also contains lists showing the correlation between the SITC and Schedule A classes in the following arrangements: (a) in Schedule A commodity number order showing the SITC group code for each Schedule A number and (b) in the order of the SITC group codes showing the Schedule A commodity numbers included in the SITC groups. It should be noted that in relating the Schedule

A classifications to the Standard International Trade Classification there were instances where, because of differences in these two classification systems, it was necessary to assign some Schedule A commodity numbers to SITC groups on the basis of judgment. In some cases a Schedule A commodity number includes items which should be classified in two or more SITC codes. In such cases the assignment of the SITC group code was made on the basis of the composition of the Schedule A classification with a judgment of its principal content. As a result, there are some SITC codes to which no Schedule A commodity numbers have been assigned. In addition, there are some SITC codes which may be either overcounted or undercounted. In terms of the dollar value of the trade in the three-digit SITC groups, the overcounting or undercounting is not believed to be important. Copies of the above-mentioned correlation lists and the table containing SITC section and group codes and descriptions (but without the value data) may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations, New York, 1961 - Series M., No. 34). For definition of individual Schedule A commodity classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to Schedule A.

(b) Data on SITC basis for periods prior to 1963. With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC section by SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC section by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations. The 1962 monthly data in the publication and in the machine tabulation do not include any revisions made subsequent to the release of the original monthly statistics but revisions to these statistics are presented as a supplement. The 1962 annual data in the publication and in the machine tabulation reflect all revisions published with the 1962 monthly statistics. Additional information regarding these 1962 statistics in SITC arrangement and information concerning the availability of data for prior periods in terms of the SITC classifications may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

(c) SITC groups less than $10,000 not shown separately. To save printing costs, complete country by SITC group information is not shown in this report. For each country, separate information is shown only for those SITC groups whose individual totals for that country during the period covered by the report were $10,000 or more. Imports from each country of commodities falling in groups with individual totals of less than $10,000 for that country are presented as a combined total for each SITC section. Individual SITC group information for imports reported in these combined totals will be supplied upon request. A charge may be made to cover the cost of preparing this detailed information. The omission of an SITC group under any country indicates no imports from that country or imports valued less than $10,000, with the exception of those SITC groups for which statistics are not compiled or shown separately. (See "Commodity information summarized into SITC groups" above and the SITC/Schedule A correlation lists.)

(d) Low-value shipments excluded from SITC commodity group data. Effective January 1958 through December 1962, the commodity subgroups which were shown in this report (with the exception of subgroup 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST") excluded information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). Effective January 1963, the individual SITC commodity groups (except group 990) also exclude data on the above-mentioned types of shipments and, in addition, they exclude data on warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups (other than group 990) are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. The estimates are shown for each country under group code 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST," and are included in the Section 9 total, the country total and the over-all import total in this report. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin," above), these estimates may be of interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Descriptions of the special handling of low-valued shipments in effect prior to January 1958 are included in the publications for those periods. The January 1958 through December 1961 issues of this report contain a discussion of the effect on statistics of the changes made in January 1958 in the handling of low-valued shipments, and a brief summary of the handling in earlier periods.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) A Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications is also available. Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included in current issues of this report and other statistical publications, or in special announcements accompanying the regular publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For free copies of the catalog or for further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

United States import statistics are compiled from information verified by Customs Examiners on import entries filed with Customs by importers. Under the direction of Philip Nichols, Jr., Commissioner of Customs, and David B. Strubinger, Assistant Commissioner of Customs, the primary responsibility for the verification of import statistical information is assigned to the field and headquarters staff of the Division of Appraisement Administration.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND SPECIAL NOTICES

PUBLICATION OF UNITED STATES IMPORT STATISTICS IN TERMS OF TARIFF SCHEDULES OF THE UNITED STATES ANNOTATED

It was announced in the June 1963 issue of Report FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin, and FT 120, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Country of Origin by SITC Commodity Group, that all import commodity statistics for September 1963 and subsequent months are to be tabulated and published in terms of the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA). Presentation of data in the September 1963 and subsequent issues of Report FT 110 will be in terms of the TSUSA within each of the 177 three-digit commodity groups of the United Nations Standard International Trade Classification (SITC). There will be no change, however, in the presentation of data in Report FT 120. In addition, the directly affected tabulations (such as IM 145, IM 153, etc.) and releases or publications will be modified accordingly. Along with the publication of the September 1963 data, listings which show the SITC group code assigned to each TSUSA number and the TSUSA classifications included within each SITC group will be provided.

A special publication presenting 1961 annual data in Tariff Schedules of the United States (TSUS) by country of origin and country of origin by TSUS arrangement will be released at approximately the same time as the September 1963 statistics are released. TSUS classification numbers are the 5-digit Tariff items which appear in the Tariff Classification Act of 1962. The TSUSA classification numbers are 7-digit numbers which represent a statistical subdivision of the tariff item (indicated by a 2-digit statistical suffix). An index, based on a conversion supplied by the Tariff Commission, in TSUS by Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States, commodity numbers in effect during 1961 and in Schedule A by TSUS number will be prepared for release as a supplement to this publication of 1961 data. As conversions between TSUS and Schedule A commodity numbers in effect during 1962 and 1963 are developed by the Tariff Commission, special publications (similar to the 1961 publication) will be prepared for those years. The publication of these data are intended to provide a basis for making comparisons with statistics compiled on a TSUSA basis effective with September 1963. As indicated in the June announcement, TSUSA will replace Schedule A as the basic reference manual for use in interpreting import data effective with the September 1963 statistics.

REVISIONS IN CORRELATION BETWEEN SCHEDULE A COMMODITY NUMBERS AND SITC REVISED CLASSIFICATION NUMBERS

A review has shown that certain changes should be made in the correlation listings between Schedule A commodity numbers in effect during 1963 and SITC, Revised, classification numbers which were published in the January 1963 issue of this report. The correlation listings, after incorporation of the changes shown below, will reflect revisions to August 1, 1963. Schedule A commodity numbers which became effective during the months of February-July 1963 are footnoted to indicate the effective date.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for intransit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouse), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouse for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouse.

Monthly Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment.

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouse, bonded manufacturing warehouse, and bonded smelting and refining warehouse immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985. Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is

---

[1] For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

[2] For information on the effects of examiner verification see the article entitled "Level of Accuracy in Import Statistics" in the October 1961 issue of this report.

corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

(a) Country Definitions - Economic. The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country of shipment. (For individual Schedule A commodities, such countries are footnoted in Report No. FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium from countries which, for security reasons, can not be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

(b) Country Definitions - Geographic. The geographic definitions of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as part of Schedule A (see "SITC Commodity Group Information," below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents of this report, which lists the countries in Schedule C order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries. The omission of a country name from this report indicates that there were no formal entry shipments valued $100 or over included in the statistics for the country and no low-valued shipments from the country were selected in the one-percent sample. See "Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis" below.

(c) Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis. The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports (under $250) reported on informal entries. (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis.

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

If the number of documents indicated from the sample is:	Then the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a value figure between

[2]400-499	261,120	273,000

[1]The actual value of shipments cannot be less than 1/100 of the estimated amount shown in the report. Figures in this column can be ignored if use of them for a particular total would bring the lower limit below 1/100 of the estimate.

[2]If the number of documents in the sample is greater than 499, sampling variability for the estimates of the low valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line 40-49, one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

In order that users may always be informed of the amount of the LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST for each country, this group is always shown separately and is not subject to the combining procedure which applies to other groups when values are less than $10,000. (See "SITC Commodity Group Information," below.) The omission of an estimate of the low valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

(a) Commodity information summarized into SITC groups. Effective with the statistics for January 1963, the commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. This commodity information, in SITC section by SITC group order, represents the summarization of data originally compiled according to the classifications in Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States. The table beginning on page 8 of this report shows the SITC section and group codes and their descriptions, along with import value totals for these classifications. This table replaces the table containing commodity group and subgroup information which appeared in previous issues of this report. The January 1963 issue of this report also contains lists showing the correlation between the SITC and Schedule A classes in the following arrangements: (a) in Schedule A commodity number order showing the SITC group code for each Schedule A number and (b) in the order of the SITC group codes showing the Schedule A commodity numbers included in the SITC groups. It should be noted that in relating the Schedule

A classifications to the Standard International Trade Classification there were instances where, because of differences in these two classification systems, it was necessary to assign some Schedule A commodity numbers to SITC groups on the basis of judgment. In some cases a Schedule A commodity number includes items which should be classified in two or more SITC codes. In such cases the assignment of the SITC group code was made on the basis of the composition of the Schedule A classification with a judgment of its principal content. As a result, there are some SITC codes to which no Schedule A commodity numbers have been assigned. In addition, there are some SITC codes which may be either overcounted or undercounted. In terms of the dollar value of the trade in the three-digit SITC groups, the overcounting or undercounting is not believed to be important. Copies of the above-mentioned correlation lists and the table containing SITC section and group codes and descriptions (but without the value data) may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations, New York, 1961 - Series M., No. 34). For definition of individual Schedule A commodity classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to Schedule A.

(b) Data on SITC basis for periods prior to 1963. With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC section by SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC section by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations. The 1962 monthly data in the publication and in the machine tabulation do not include any revisions made subsequent to the release of the original monthly statistics but revisions to these statistics are presented as a supplement. The 1962 annual data in the publication and in the machine tabulation reflect all revisions published with the 1962 monthly statistics. Additional information regarding these 1962 statistics in SITC arrangement and information concerning the availability of data for prior periods in terms of the SITC classifications may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

(c) SITC groups less than $10,000 not shown separately. To save printing costs, complete country by SITC group information is not shown in this report. For each country, separate information is shown only for those SITC groups whose individual totals for that country during the period covered by the report were $10,000 or more. Imports from each country of commodities falling in groups with individual totals of less than $10,000 for that country are presented as a combined total for each SITC section. Individual SITC group information for imports reported in these combined totals will be supplied upon request. A charge may be made to cover the cost of preparing this detailed information. The omission of an SITC group under any country indicates no imports from that country or imports valued less than $10,000, with the exception of those SITC groups for which statistics are not compiled or shown separately. (See "Commodity information summarized into SITC groups" above and the SITC/Schedule A correlation lists.)

(d) Low-value shipments excluded from SITC commodity group data. Effective January 1958 through December 1962, the commodity subgroups which were shown in this report (with the exception of subgroup 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST") excluded information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). Effective January 1963, the individual SITC commodity groups (except group 990) also exclude data on the above-mentioned types of shipments and, in addition, they exclude data on warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups (other than group 990) are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. The estimates are shown for each country under group code 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST," and are included in the Section 9 total, the country total and the over-all import total in this report. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin," above), these estimates may be of interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Descriptions of the special handling of low-valued shipments in effect prior to January 1958 are included in the publications for those periods. The January 1958 through December 1961 issues of this report contain a discussion of the effect on statistics of the changes made in January 1958 in the handling of low-valued shipments, and a brief summary of the handling in earlier periods.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) A Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications is also available. Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included in current issues of this report and other statistical publications, or in special announcements accompanying the regular publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For free copies of the catalog or for further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 99D are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

United States import statistics are compiled from information verified by Customs Examiners on import entries filed with Customs by importers. Under the direction of Philip Nichols, Jr., Commissioner of Customs, and David B. Strubinger, Assistant Commissioner of Customs, the primary responsibility for the verification of import statistical information is assigned to the field and headquarters staff of the Division of Appraisement Administration.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND SPECIAL NOTICES

AVAILABILITY OF 1962 ANNUAL IMPORT STATISTICS PRESENTED IN TERMS OF THE THREE-DIGIT SITC COMMODITY GROUPS

In the August 1962 issue of Report Nos. FT 110 and FT 120, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin and Country of Origin by Subgroup, it was announced that a report would be issued showing 1962 annual data in the following arrangements:

1. Three-digit SITC commodity group by country of origin
2. Country of Origin by three-digit SITC commodity group

Sales copies of this report are available at the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, at 65 cents per copy. Present subscribers to Report FT 110 and/or FT 120 will be furnished with a copy of this report, free of charge, upon request, to the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for intransit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouse), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouse for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouse.

Monthly Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment.

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouse, bonded manufacturing warehouse, and bonded smelting and refining warehouse immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985. Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is

[1] For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

[2] For information on the effects of examiner verification see the article entitled "Level of Accuracy in Import Statistics" in the October 1961 issue of this report.

corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

(a) Country Definitions - Economic. The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country of shipment. (For individual Schedule A commodities, such countries are footnoted in Report No. FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium from countries which, for security reasons, can not be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

(b) Country Definitions - Geographic. The geographic definitions of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as part of Schedule A (see "SITC Commodity Group Information," below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents of this report, which lists the countries in Schedule C order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries. The omission of a country name from this report indicates that there were no formal entry shipments valued $100 or over included in the statistics for the country and no low-valued shipments from the country were selected in the one-percent sample. See "Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis" below.

(c) Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis. The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports (under $250) reported on informal entries. (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis.

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

If the number of documents indicated from the sample is:	Then the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a value figure between

300-399	232,920	244,800
[2]400-499	261,120	273,000

[1]The actual value of shipments cannot be less than 1/100 of the estimated amount shown in the report. Figures in this column can be ignored if use of them for a particular total would bring the lower limit below 1/100 of the estimate.

[2]If the number of documents in the sample is greater than 499, sampling variability for the estimates of the low valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line 40-49, one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

In order that users may always be informed of the amount of the LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST for each country, this group is always shown separately and is not subject to the combining procedure which applies to other groups when values are less than $10,000. (See "SITC Commodity Group Information," below.) The omission of an estimate of the low valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

(a) Commodity information summarized into SITC groups. Effective with the statistics for January 1963, the commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. This commodity information, in SITC section by SITC group order, represents the summarization of data originally compiled according to the classifications in Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States. The table beginning on page 8 of this report shows the SITC section and group codes and their descriptions, along with import value totals for these classifications. This table replaces the table containing commodity group and subgroup information which appeared in previous issues of this report. The January 1963 issue of this report also contains lists showing the correlation between the SITC and Schedule A classes in the following arrangements: (a) in Schedule A commodity number order showing the SITC group code for each Schedule A number and (b) in the order of the SITC group codes showing the Schedule A commodity numbers included in the SITC groups. It should be noted that in relating the Schedule

A classifications to the Standard International Trade Classification there were instances where, because of differences in these two classification systems, it was necessary to assign some Schedule A commodity numbers to SITC groups on the basis of judgment. In some cases a Schedule A commodity number includes items which should be classified in two or more SITC codes. In such cases the assignment of the SITC group code was made on the basis of the composition of the Schedule A classification with a judgment of its principal content. As a result, there are some SITC codes to which no Schedule A commodity numbers have been assigned. In addition, there are some SITC codes which may be either overcounted or undercounted. In terms of the dollar value of the trade in the three-digit SITC groups, the overcounting or undercounting is not believed to be important. Copies of the above-mentioned correlation lists and the table containing SITC section and group codes and descriptions (but without the value data) may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations, New York, 1961 - Series M., No. 34). For definition of individual Schedule A commodity classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to Schedule A.

(b) Data on SITC basis for periods prior to 1963. With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC section by SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC section by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations. The 1962 monthly data in the publication and in the machine tabulation do not include any revisions made subsequent to the release of the original monthly statistics but revisions to these statistics are presented as a supplement. The 1962 annual data in the publication and in the machine tabulation reflect all revisions published with the 1962 monthly statistics. Additional information regarding these 1962 statistics in SITC arrangement and information concerning the availability of data for prior periods in terms of the SITC classifications may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

(c) SITC groups less than $10,000 not shown separately. To save printing costs, complete country by SITC group information is not shown in this report. For each country, separate information is shown only for those SITC groups whose individual totals for that country during the period covered by the report were $10,000 or more. Imports from each country of commodities falling in groups with individual totals of less than $10,000 for that country are presented as a combined total for each SITC section. Individual SITC group information for imports reported in these combined totals will be supplied upon request. A charge may be made to cover the cost of preparing this detailed information. The omission of an SITC group under any country indicates no imports from that country or imports valued less than $10,000, with the exception of those SITC groups for which statistics are not compiled or shown separately. (See "Commodity information summarized into SITC groups" above and the SITC/Schedule A correlation lists.)

(d) Low-value shipments excluded from SITC commodity group data. Effective January 1958 through December 1962, the commodity subgroups which were shown in this report (with the exception of subgroup 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST") excluded information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). Effective January 1963, the individual SITC commodity groups (except group 990) also exclude data on the above-mentioned types of shipments and, in addition, they exclude data on warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups (other than group 990) are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. The estimates are shown for each country under group code 990, "LOW DOLLAR VALUE EST," and are included in the Section 9 total, the country total and the over-all import total in this report. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin," above), these estimates may be of interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Descriptions of the special handling of low-valued shipments in effect prior to January 1958 are included in the publications for those periods. The January 1958 through December 1961 issues of this report contain a discussion of the effect on statistics of the changes made in January 1958 in the handling of low-valued shipments, and a brief summary of the handling in earlier periods.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) A Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications is also available. Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included in current issues of this report and other statistical publications, or in special announcements accompanying the regular publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For free copies of the catalog or for further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$25D and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country totals. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND SPECIAL NOTICES

AVAILABILITY OF 1961 ANNUAL IMPORT STATISTICS PRESENTED IN TERMS OF TARIFF SCHEDULES OF THE UNITED STATES

A special publication, Dollar Value of U.S. Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, TSUS Schedule by Part by Item, 1961, has been prepared. The 1961 TSUS (Tariff Schedules of the United States) value totals presented in this publication are a recompilation of data originally compiled in terms of classifications presented in Schedule A (Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States). The recompilation is based on preliminary allocations of 1961 United States import trade data in terms of the classifications in TSUS, as furnished by the Tariff Commission. An index, based on a conversion supplied by the Tariff Commission, in TSUS by 1961 Schedule A commodity number arrangement and also in 1961 Schedule A by TSUS number arrangement is included in the publication. Sales copies of this report are available at the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, and Department of Commerce Field Offices at 75 cents per copy.

CORRELATION BETWEEN SITC REVISED CLASSIFICATION NUMBERS AND TSUSA COMMODITY NUMBERS

It was announced in the July 1963 issue of Report FT 120, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Country of Origin by SITC commodity Group, that all import commodity statistics for September 1963 and subsequent months are to be tabulated and published in terms of the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA) and that there would be no change in presentation of data in Report FT 120. In accordance with the announcement, reference listings showing the SITC group code assigned to each TSUSA number and the TSUSA numbers included within each SITC group, as developed by the Tariff Commission, are presented on page II of this report.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for intransit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouses), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouses for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouses.

Monthly Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment.

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouses, bonded manufacturing warehouses, and bonded smelting and refining warehouses immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985. Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is

[1] For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

[2] For information on the effects of examiner verification see the article entitled "Level of Accuracy in Import Statistics" in the October 1961 issue of this report.

corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

(a) Country Definitions - Economic. The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country of shipment. (For individual Schedule A commodities, such countries are footnoted in Report No. FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium and thorium-bearing materials from countries which, for security reasons, can not be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

(b) Country Definitions - Geographic. The geographic definitions of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as Annex B in TSUSA (see "SITC Commodity Group Information," below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents of this report, which lists the countries in Schedule C order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries. The omission of a country name from this report indicates that there were no formal entry shipments valued $100 or over included in the statistics for the country and no low-valued shipments from the country were selected in the one-percent sample. See "Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis" below.

(c) Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis. The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis.

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

[1]The actual value of shipments cannat be less than 1/100 af the estimated amaunt shawn in the repart. Figures in this calumn can be ignared if use af them far a particular tatal wauld bring the lawer limit belaw 1/100 af the estimate.

[2]If the number af dacuments in the sample is greater than 499, sampling variability far the estimates af the law valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line 40-49, one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

In order that users may always be informed of the amount of the LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST for each country, this group is always shown separately and is not subject to the combining procedure which applies to other groups when values are less than $10,000. (See "SITC Commodity Group Information," below.) The omission of an estimate of the low valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

(a) Commodity information summarized into SITC groups. The commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the three-digit group codes of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. Effective with the statistics for September 1963, this commodity information represents the summarization of data originally compiled in accordance with the classifications in Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA), an official publication of the United States Tariff Commission, embracing the legal text of the Tariff Schedules of the United States together with statistical annotations. TSUSA replaces Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States, under which import statistics were previously compiled.

The assignment of SITC group codes to the Tariff classifications was originally made by the Tariff Commission. Correlation lists which show the SITC group code assigned to each TSUSA number and the TSUSA numbers included in each SITC group are included in the September 1963 issue of this report. Copies of these correlations may also be obtained from the Bureau of the Census. Possible differences in the coverage of individual SITC group codes resulting from the change from Schedule A to TSUSA classifications should be taken into consideration whenever SITC group information for September 1963 and subsequent months is compared with similar data for periods prior to September 1963.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations, New York, 1961—Series M, No. 34). For definition of individual TSUSA classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (1963), Tariff Commission Publication 103, available at the office of the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, at offices of local Collectors of Customs, and Department of Commerce Field Offices.

(b) SITC groups less than $10,000 not shown separately. To save printing costs, complete country by SITC group information is not shown in this report. For each country, separate information is shown only for those SITC groups whose individual totals for that country during the period covered by the report were $10,000 or more. Imports from each country of commodities falling in groups with individual totals of less than $10,000 for that country are presented as a combined total for each SITC section. Individual SITC group information for imports reported in these combined totals will be supplied upon request. A charge may be made to cover the cost of preparing this detailed information. The omission of an SITC group under any country indicates no imports from that country or imports valued less than $10,000, with the exception of those SITC groups for which statistics are not compiled or shown separately. (See "Commodity information summarized into SITC groups" above and the SITC/TSUSA correlation lists.)

(c) Low-value shipments excluded from SITC commodity group data. Effective January 1958 through December 1962, the commodity subgroups which were shown in this report (with the exception of subgroup 990, "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST") excluded information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). Effective January 1963, the individual SITC commodity groups (except group 990) also exclude data on the above-mentioned types of shipments and, in addition, they exclude data on warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. In compiling the statistics for September 1963 and subsequent periods, these procedures for the exclusion of low-valued imports from the individual commodity classifications will continue to be in effect. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups (other than group 990) are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. The estimates are shown for each country under group code 990, "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST," and are included in the Section 9 total, the country total and the over-all import total in this report. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin," above), these estimates may be of interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Descriptions of the special handling of low-valued shipments in effect prior to January 1958 are included in the publications for those periods. The January 1958 through December 1961 issues of this report contain a discussion of the effect on statistics of the changes made in January 1958 in the handling of low-valued shipments, and a brief summary of the handling in earlier periods.

(d) Data on SITC basis for periods prior to 1963. With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications effective January 1963, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC section by SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC section by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations. The 1962 monthly data in the publication and in the machine tabulation do not include any revisions made subsequent to the release of the original monthly statistics but revisions to these statistics are presented as a supplement in the publication. The 1962 annual data in the publication and in the machine tabulation reflect all revisions published with the 1962 monthly statistics. Additional information regarding these 1962 statistics in SITC arrangement and information concerning the availability of data for prior periods in terms of the SITC classifications may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) A Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications is also available. Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included as special announcements in current issues of this report and other statistical publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For free copies of the catalog or for further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

United States import statistics are compiled from information verified by Customs Examiners on import entries filed with Customs by importers. Under the direction of Philip Nichols, Jr., Commissioner of Customs, and David B. Strubinger, Assistant Commissioner of Customs, the primary responsibility for the verification of import statistical information is assigned to the field and headquarters staff of the Division of Appraisement Administration.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for intransit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouses), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouses for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouses.

Monthly Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment.

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouses, bonded manufacturing warehouses, and bonded smelting and refining warehouses immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985. Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is

---

[1] For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

[2] For information on the effects of examiner verification see the article entitled "Level of Accuracy in Import Statistics" in the October 1961 issue of this report.

corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

(a) Country Definitions - Economic. The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country of shipment. (For individual Schedule A commodities, such countries are footnoted in Report No. FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium and thorium-bearing materials from countries which, for security reasons, can not be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

(b) Country Definitions - Geographic. The geographic definitions of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as Annex B in TSUSA (see "SITC Commodity Group Information," below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents of this report, which lists the countries in Schedule C order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries. The omission of a country name from this report indicates that there were no formal entry shipments valued $100 or over included in the statistics for the country and no low-valued shipments from the country were selected in the one-percent sample. See "Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis" below.

(c) Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis. The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis.

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

If the number of documents indicated from the sample is:	Then the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a value figure between

[1]The actual value of shipments cannot be less than 1/100 of the estimated amount shown in the report. Figures in this column can be ignored if use of them for a particular total would bring the lower limit below 1/100 of the estimate.

[2]If the number of documents in the sample is greater than 499, sampling variability for the estimates of the low valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line 40-49, one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

In order that users may always be informed of the amount of the LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST for each country, this group is always shown separately and is not subject to the combining procedure which applies to other groups when values are less than $10,000. (See "SITC Commodity Group Information," below.) The omission of an estimate of the low valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

(a) Commodity information summarized into SITC groups. The commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the three-digit group codes of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. Effective with the statistics for September 1963, this commodity information represents the summarization of data originally compiled in accordance with the classifications in Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA), an official publication of the United States Tariff Commission, embracing the legal text of the Tariff Schedules of the United States together with statistical annotations. TSUSA replaces Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States, under which import statistics were previously compiled.

The assignment of SITC group codes to the Tariff classifications was originally made by the Tariff Commission. Correlation lists which show the SITC group code assigned to each TSUSA number and the TSUSA numbers included in each SITC group are included in the September 1963 issue of this report. Copies of these correlations may also be obtained from the Bureau of the Census. Possible differences in the coverage of individual SITC group codes resulting from the change from Schedule A to TSUSA classifications should be taken into consideration whenever SITC group information for September 1963 and subsequent months is compared with similar data for periods prior to September 1963.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations, New York, 1961—Series M, No. 34). For definition of individual TSUSA classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (1963), Tariff Commission Publication 103, available at the office of the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, at offices of local Collectors of Customs, and Department of Commerce Field Offices.

(b) SITC groups less than $10,000 not shown separately. To save printing costs, complete country by SITC group information is not shown in this report. For each country, separate information is shown only for those SITC groups whose individual totals for that country during the period covered by the report were $10,000 or more. Imports from each country of commodities falling in groups with individual totals of less than $10,000 for that country are presented as a combined total for each SITC section. Individual SITC group information for imports reported in these combined totals will be supplied upon request. A charge may be made to cover the cost of preparing this detailed information. The omission of an SITC group under any country indicates no imports from that country or imports valued less than $10,000, with the exception of those SITC groups for which statistics are not compiled or shown separately. (See "Commodity information summarized into SITC groups" above and the SITC/TSUSA correlation lists.)

(c) Low-value shipments excluded from SITC commodity group data. Effective January 1958 through December 1962, the commodity subgroups which were shown in this report (with the exception of subgroup 990, "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST") excluded information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). Effective January 1963, the individual SITC commodity groups (except group 990) also exclude data on the above-mentioned types of shipments and, in addition, they exclude data on warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. In compiling the statistics for September 1963 and subsequent periods, these procedures for the exclusion of low-valued imports from the individual commodity classifications will continue to be in effect. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups (other than group 990) are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. The estimates are shown for each country under group code 990, "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST," and are included in the Section 9 total, the country total and the over-all import total in this report. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin," above), these estimates may be of interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Descriptions of the special handling of low-valued shipments in effect prior to January 1958 are included in the publications for those periods. The January 1958 through December 1961 issues of this report contain a discussion of the effect on statistics of the changes made in January 1958 in the handling of low-valued shipments, and a brief summary of the handling in earlier periods.

(d) Data on SITC basis for periods prior to 1963. With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications effective January 1963, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC section by SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC section by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations. The 1962 monthly data in the publication and in the machine tabulation do not include any revisions made subsequent to the release of the original monthly statistics but revisions to these statistics are presented as a supplement in the publication. The 1962 annual data in the publication and in the machine tabulation reflect all revisions published with the 1962 monthly statistics. Additional information regarding these 1962 statistics in SITC arrangement and information concerning the availability of data for prior periods in terms of the SITC classifications may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) A Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications is also available. Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included as special announcements in current issues of this report and other statistical publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For free copies of the catalog or for further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

United States import statistics are compiled from information verified by Customs Examiners on import entries filed with Customs by importers Under the direction of Philip Nichols, Jr., Commissioner of Customs, and David B. Strubinger, Assistant Commissioner of Customs, the primary responsibility for the verification of import statistical information is assigned to the field and headquarters staff of the Division of Appraisement Administration.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND SPECIAL NOTICES

ARRANGEMENT OF DATA IN THE ANNUAL 1963 ISSUE OF REPORTS FT 110 AND FT 120

Effective with the statistics for September 1963, the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated ((TSUSA)) replaced Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States, as the basic reference manual for use in interpreting the published data. All published import commodity statistics since September are in terms of TSUSA arranged within the 177 three-digit commodity groups of the United Nations Standard International Trade Classification ((SITC)).

The annual 1963 issue of Report FT 110 will reflect data as compiled in terms of Schedule A commodity classifications during January through August and TSUSA classifications during September through December 1963. At the one and three-digit SITC levels, January through December dollar value totals will be shown in the same manner as in the 1963 monthly issues of Report FT 110. These value totals will be the sum of eight months of data under Schedule A and four months of data under TSUSA. No quantity totals will be shown at the SITC level.

At the commodity level, within a given SITC group, there will be two sections of data. The first section will contain the cumulative January through August data in Schedule A number by country of origin arrangement. A second separate section will contain the cumulative September through December data in TSUSA number by country of origin arrangement. There is no official correlation between Schedule A and TSUSA numbers for 1963. Consequently it is not possible to show a 1963 annual total solely in terms of Schedule A or TSUSA.

There will be no change in the arrangement of data in the annual 1963 issue of Report FT 120, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Country of Origin by SITC Commodity Group.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for intransit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouses), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouses for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouses.

Monthly Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment.

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouses, bonded manufacturing warehouses, and bonded smelting and refining warehouses immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985. Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is

---

[1] For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

[2] For information on the effects of examiner verification see the article entitled "Level of Accuracy in Import Statistics" in the October 1961 issue of this report.

corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

(a) Country Definitions - Economic. The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country of shipment. (For individual Schedule A commodities, such countries are footnoted in Report No. FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium and thorium-bearing materials from countries which, for security reasons, can not be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

(b) Country Definitions - Geographic. The geographic definitions of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as Annex B in TSUSA (see "SITC Commodity Group Information," below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents of this report, which lists the countries in Schedule C order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries. The omission of a country name from this report indicates that there were no formal entry shipments valued $100 or over included in the statistics for the country and no low-valued shipments from the country were selected in the one-percent sample. See "Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis" below.

(c) Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis. The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis.

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

If the number of documents indicated from the sample is:	Then the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a value figure between

[1]The actual value of shipments cannot be less than 1/100 of the estimated amount shown in the report. Figures in this column can be ignored if use of them for a particular total would bring the lower limit below 1/100 of the estimate.

[2]If the number of documents in the sample is greater than 499, sampling variability for the estimates of the low valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line 40-49, one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

In order that users may always be informed of the amount of the LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST for each country, this group is always shown separately and is not subject to the combining procedure which applies to other groups when values are less than $10,000. (See "SITC Commodity Group Information," below.) The omission of an estimate of the low valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

(a) Commodity information summarized into SITC groups. The commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the three-digit group codes of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. Effective with the statistics for September 1963, this commodity information represents the summarization of data originally compiled in accordance with the classifications in Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA), an official publication of the United States Tariff Commission, embracing the legal text of the Tariff Schedules of the United States together with statistical annotations. TSUSA replaces Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States, under which import statistics were previously compiled.

The assignment of SITC group codes to the Tariff classifications was originally made by the Tariff Commission. Correlation lists which show the SITC group code assigned to each TSUSA number and the TSUSA numbers included in each SITC group are included in the September 1963 issue of this report. Copies of these correlations may also be obtained from the Bureau of the Census. Possible differences in the coverage of individual SITC group codes resulting from the change from Schedule A to TSUSA classifications should be taken into consideration whenever SITC group information for September 1963 and subsequent months is compared with similar data for periods prior to September 1963.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations, New York, 1961—Series M, No. 34). For definition of individual TSUSA classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (1963), Tariff Commission Publication 103, available at the office of the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, at offices of local Collectors of Customs, and Department of Commerce Field Offices.

(b) SITC groups less than $10,000 not shown separately. To save printing costs, complete country by SITC group information is not shown in this report. For each country, separate information is shown only for those SITC groups whose individual totals for that country during the period covered by the report were $10,000 or more. Imports from each country of commodities falling in groups with individual totals of less than $10,000 for that country are presented as a combined total for each SITC section. Individual SITC group information for imports reported in these combined totals will be supplied upon request. A charge may be made to cover the cost of preparing this detailed information. The omission of an SITC group under any country indicates no imports from that country or imports valued less than $10,000, with the exception of those SITC groups for which statistics are not compiled or shown separately. (See "Commodity information summarized into SITC groups" above and the SITC/TSUSA correlation lists.)

(c) Low-value shipments excluded from SITC commodity group data. Effective January 1958 through December 1962, the commodity subgroups which were shown in this report (with the exception of subgroup 990, "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST") excluded information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). Effective January 1963, the individual SITC commodity groups (except group 990) also exclude data on the above-mentioned types of shipments and, in addition, they exclude data on warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. In compiling the statistics for September 1963 and subsequent periods, these procedures for the exclusion of low-valued imports from the individual commodity classifications will continue to be in effect. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups (other than group 990) are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. The estimates are shown for each country under group code 990, "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST," and are included in the Section 9 total, the country total and the over-all import total in this report. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin," above), these estimates may be of interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Descriptions of the special handling of low-valued shipments in effect prior to January 1958 are included in the publications for those periods. The January 1958 through December 1961 issues of this report contain a discussion of the effect on statistics of the changes made in January 1958 in the handling of low-valued shipments, and a brief summary of the handling in earlier periods.

(d) Data on SITC basis for periods prior to 1963. With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications effective January 1963, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC section by SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC section by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations. The 1962 monthly data in the publication and in the machine tabulation do not include any revisions made subsequent to the release of the original monthly statistics but revisions to these statistics are presented as a supplement in the publication. The 1962 annual data in the publication and in the machine tabulation reflect all revisions published with the 1962 monthly statistics. Additional information regarding these 1962 statistics in SITC arrangement and information concerning the availability of data for prior periods in terms of the SITC classifications may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) A Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications is also available. Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included as special announcements in current issues of this report and other statistical publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For free copies of the catalog or for further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 99D are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$25D and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND SPECIAL NOTICES

SUPPLEMENT CONTAINING DATA TO BE ADDED TO THE IMPORT STATISTICS FOR SEPTEMBER 1963

Due to processing errors, some revisions are required in the statistics on imports of textile commodities for consumption during the month of September 1963, as indicated in the Supplement which follows. The revisions involve the addition of about $1.5 million to the September 1963 total. It is emphasized that the data in the Supplement are to be added to the statistics published in Report FT 120 for the month of September.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for intransit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouses), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouses for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouses.

Monthly Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment.

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouses, bonded manufacturing warehouses, and bonded smelting and refining warehouses immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985. Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is

---

[1] For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

[2] For information on the effects of examiner verification see the article entitled "Level of Accuracy in Import Statistics" in the October 1961 issue of this report.

corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

(a) Country Definitions - Economic. The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country of shipment. (For individual Schedule A commodities, such countries are footnoted in Report No. FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium and thorium-bearing materials from countries which, for security reasons, can not be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

(b) Country Definitions - Geographic. The geographic definitions of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as Annex B in TSUSA (see "SITC Commodity Group Information," below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents of this report, which lists the countries in Schedule C order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries. The omission of a country name from this report indicates that there were no formal entry shipments valued $100 or over included in the statistics for the country and no low-valued shipments from the country were selected in the one-percent sample. See "Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis" below.

(c) Low-valued shipments in country totals on estimated basis. The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

If the number of documents indicated from the sample is:	Then the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a value figure between

[1]The actual value of shipments cannot be less than 1/100 of the estimated amount shown in the report. Figures in this column can be ignored if use of them for a particular total would bring the lower limit below 1/100 of the estimate.

[2]If the number of documents in the sample is greater than 499, sampling variability for the estimates of the low valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line 40-49, one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

In order that users may always be informed of the amount of the LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST for each country, this group is always shown separately and is not subject to the combining procedure which applies to other groups when values are less than $10,000. (See "SITC Commodity Group Information," below.) The omission of an estimate of the low valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

(a) Commodity information summarized into SITC groups. The commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the three-digit group codes of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. Effective with the statistics for September 1963, this commodity information represents the summarization of data originally compiled in accordance with the classifications in Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA), an official publication of the United States Tariff Commission, embracing the legal text of the Tariff Schedules of the United States together with statistical annotations. TSUSA replaces Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported into the United States, under which import statistics were previously compiled.

The assignment of SITC group codes to the Tariff classifications was originally made by the Tariff Commission. Correlation lists which show the SITC group code assigned to each TSUSA number and the TSUSA numbers included in each SITC group are included in the September 1963 issue of this report. Copies of these correlations may also be obtained from the Bureau of the Census. Possible differences in the coverage of individual SITC group codes resulting from the change from Schedule A to TSUSA classifications should be taken into consideration whenever SITC group information for September 1963 and subsequent months is compared with similar data for periods prior to September 1963.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations, New York, 1961—Series M, No. 34). For definition of individual TSUSA classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (1963), Tariff Commission Publication 103, available at the office of the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, at offices of local Collectors of Customs, and Department of Commerce Field Offices.

(b) SITC groups less than $10,000 not shown separately. To save printing costs, complete country by SITC group information is not shown in this report. For each country, separate information is shown only for those SITC groups whose individual totals for that country during the period covered by the report were $10,000 or more. Imports from each country of commodities falling in groups with individual totals of less than $10,000 for that country are presented as a combined total for each SITC section. Individual SITC group information for imports reported in these combined totals will be supplied upon request. A charge may be made to cover the cost of preparing this detailed information. The omission of an SITC group under any country indicates no imports from that country or imports valued less than $10,000, with the exception of those SITC groups for which statistics are not compiled or shown separately. (See "Commodity information summarized into SITC groups" above and the SITC/TSUSA correlation lists.)

(c) Low-value shipments excluded from SITC commodity group data. Effective January 1958 through December 1962, the commodity subgroups which were shown in this report (with the exception of subgroup 990, "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST") excluded information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). Effective January 1963, the individual SITC commodity groups (except group 990) also exclude data on the above-mentioned types of shipments and, in addition, they exclude data on warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. In compiling the statistics for September 1963 and subsequent periods, these procedures for the exclusion of low-valued imports from the individual commodity classifications will continue to be in effect. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups (other than group 990) are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. The estimates are shown for each country under group code 990, "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST," and are included in the Section 9 total, the country total and the over-all import total in this report. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin," above), these estimates may be of interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Descriptions of the special handling of low-valued shipments in effect prior to January 1958 are included in the publications for those periods. The January 1958 through December 1961 issues of this report contain a discussion of the effect on statistics of the changes made in January 1958 in the handling of low-valued shipments, and a brief summary of the handling in earlier periods.

(d) Data on SITC basis for periods prior to 1963. With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications effective January 1963, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC section by SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC section by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations. The 1962 monthly data in the publication and in the machine tabulation do not include any revisions made subsequent to the release of the original monthly statistics but revisions to these statistics are presented as a supplement in the publication. The 1962 annual data in the publication and in the machine tabulation reflect all revisions published with the 1962 monthly statistics. Additional information regarding these 1962 statistics in SITC arrangement and information concerning the availability of data for prior periods in terms of the SITC classifications may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) A Catalog of United States Foreign Trade Statistical Publications is also available. Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included as special announcements in current issues of this report and other statistical publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For free copies of the catalog or for further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

UNITED STATES IMPORTS OF CERTAIN PHARMACEUTICALS EXCLUDED FROM THE STATISTICS, CALENDAR YEARS 1959-1963

The following table covers data on imports of pharmaceuticals which are not reflected in the import statistics for calendar years 1959 through 1963. These data cover United States government purchases made abroad for which formal import entries were not filed at the time of arrival in the United States. Information as to month of entry is not available. Import data for 1959 through 1963 will not be revised to reflect the information shown below. Shipments of this type will be included in the import statistics beginning with 1964.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

COVERAGE

Types of Shipments Included

The import statistics include government as well as nongovernment shipments of merchandise from foreign countries to the United States. However, American goods returned by the United States armed forces for their own use are excluded. Shipments into the United States from Puerto Rico and from the United States territories and possessions and shipments between the territories and possessions and between Puerto Rico and the territories and possessions are not reported as United States imports, but imports into Puerto Rico from foreign countries are considered to be United States imports and are included in this report. Merchandise shipped under Customs custody through the United States in transit from one foreign country to another is not reported as imports. In general, the import statistics are a complete record of the physical movement of merchandise into the United States from foreign countries (except for in-transit shipments), but there are some exclusions of items of relatively small importance in terms of total value, such as personal and household effects.

Imports for consumption shown in this report consist of merchandise entered into United States consumption channels, i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival, merchandise entered into bonded manufacturing warehouses (other than smelting and refining warehouse), merchandise withdrawn from bonded storage warehouse for release into domestic consumption channels, and imported ores and crude metals which have been processed in bonded smelting warehouse.

Monthly and Annual Coverage

It is the objective of the compiling procedures, insofar as practical, to include shipments in the imports for consumption statistics for the month of import which, in general, is based on the date of filing of the consumption entry or warehouse withdrawal document.[1] However, because of processing problems, there has always been a carry-over of a small percentage of items from the proper month to a subsequent month (usually the month immediately following). The amount of this carry-over was increased a few years ago in order to take advantage of early release dates made possible with the use of electronic equipment. Normally, the amount of the carry-over from month to month (and from year to year) remains substantially constant. For individual commodities, however, the carry-over procedure as a whole may result in the inclusion in the 1963 statistics of some shipments made in 1962, and/or the exclusion from 1963 statistics of some 1963 shipments which will be included in the statistics for 1964.

RELATED INFORMATION

Information is also compiled for general imports, which represent total arrivals of imported goods (except for intransit shipments), i.e., merchandise released from Customs custody immediately upon arrival plus merchandise entered into bonded storage warehouse, bonded manufacturing warehouse, and bonded smelting and refining warehouse immediately upon arrival. General import figures covering total trade, country totals and Customs district totals are published monthly. General import commodity statistics are not published but are available for reference purposes.

Trade between the United States, Puerto Rico and United States possessions (not included as United States imports) is presented separately in Report No. FT 800. Statistics on the movement of intransit merchandise arriving at or leaving the United States by vessel (not included in this report) are also compiled and presented in summary form in Report No. FT 985. In addition, transportation statistics (showing shipping weight as well as value information) are compiled covering that part of general imports of merchandise which arrives by vessel. Summary vessel transportation statistics for both imports and exports are presented in Report No. FT 985.

Effective with statistics for January 1962, information is being compiled on United States general imports of merchandise by air. These data are published in Reports FT 380, FT 390 and FT 986. A more complete description of the coverage and presentation of the various types of statistics mentioned above will be found in the introductions to the specified reports.

SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The source of information for all of the imports included in this report is the import entry and warehouse withdrawal forms which importers are required to file with Collectors of Customs. Effective January 1, 1962, statistical factors of country of origin, net quantity, value, and commodity classification are verified or corrected as necessary by Customs examiners on all formal consumption and warehouse entries.[2] This verification of statistical data is made at the time the examiner reviews invoices and samples of merchandise for duty and other Customs purposes, and the statistical copy of the entry is corrected by the examiner at that time if he finds that it does not accurately reflect the information called for by the statistical requirements.

Information on warehouse withdrawals, which account for approximately 10 percent of the total value of imports for consumption, while not subject to the examiner verification procedure directly, should be improved indirectly (due to "education" of importers/brokers) by the verification of the warehouse entries to which they correspond.

VALUATION

The dollar value in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the United States import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

Country Definitions - Economic

The country reported in the statistics as the country of origin is defined as the country where the merchandise was grown, mined, or manufactured. In instances where it is known that the country of origin cannot be determined, the transactions are credited to the country

[1] For shipments by vessel, merchandise is not included in the statistics prior to the date of formal entrance of the vessel (i.e., the date of the inward Customs manifest for the vessel).

[2] For information on the effects of examiner verification see the article entitled "Level of Accuracy in Import Statistics" in the October 1961 issue of this report.

of shipment. (For individual commodity classifications, such countries are footnoted in Report FT 110, United States Imports of Merchandise for Consumption, Commodity by Country of Origin.) At the end of this report, following the statistics for individual countries, the country designation "Unidentified Countries" (arbitrary country code 998 in import tabulations) is shown. This designation is used to reflect imports from countries which could not be identified because of illegible reporting on import entries for low-valued shipments and certain imports of thorium and thorium-bearing materials from countries which, for security reasons, cannot be identified by name. The totals shown under "Unidentified Countries" are excluded from the other country and country by SITC group totals in this report.

Country Definitions - Geographic

The geographic definition of countries reported are shown in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations Used in Compiling the United States Foreign Trade Statistics. Schedule C shows the descriptions of the countries, adjacent provinces, territories, islands, or other areas considered a part of each country for statistical purposes. It is published as part of Schedule A and as Annex B in Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (see "SITC Commodity Group Information", below). A separate edition is also available free upon request to the Bureau of the Census. In this report countries are listed according to continents, in sequence within each continent from north to south and west to east, in accordance with their arrangement in Schedule C. The Table of Contents on page 4, which lists the countries in this order, will assist in locating the data for individual countries.

Low-valued Shipments in Country Totals on Estimated Basis

The country totals in this report include data on an estimated basis for imports valued under $100 reported on formal entries and imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250). (See discussion below under "SITC Commodity Group Information.") For any country where the low-value estimate may make up a significant portion of the country total, the sampling variability of the estimate may need to be considered in connection with the reliability of the country total. The estimates are shown in this report under the arbitrary SITC group code 990 "LOW VALUED DOLLAR EST" for each country. The extent to which the estimates might not agree with a complete tabulation of the shipments depends on the number of documents which fall in the sample. This is the number at the left of the value figure for the group 990 estimate in this report. It is followed by two asterisks for ready identification. This number can be used in conjunction with the following table to obtain an estimate of the sampling variability on a two times out of three basis.

The table below indicates the degree of reliability to be attached to a specified value.

If the number of documents indicated from the sample is:	Then the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a value figure between

[1]The actual value of shipments connat be less than 1/100 of the estimated amount shown in the report. Figures in this column con be ignored if use of them for a particulor total would bring the lower limit below 1/100 of the estimate.

[2]If the number of documents in the sample is greater thon 499, sampling variability for the estimates of the low valued shipments will generally be less than 7 percent.

The following will illustrate the use of the table.

> Suppose an estimated value of $310,800 is based on 45 documents in the sample. Referring to the line "40-49," one notes the values $79,800 and $99,000. This means that the chances are better than 2 out of 3 that a complete tabulation would have resulted in a figure between $231,000 ($310,800 reduced by $79,800) and $409,800 ($310,800 increased by $99,000). Similarly, a country total of $15,957,189 which represents a total of $15,559,689 for the fully compiled data plus an estimate of $397,500 for SITC group 990 based upon 75 shipments in the sample would be between $15,855,189 ($15,957,189 reduced by $102,000) and $16,077,189 ($15,957,189 increased by $120,000).

In the event a user desires to combine 2 or more figures which are estimated values, or which include estimated values, the variability of the combined total can be determined by merely adding the sample size for each estimated value and then referring to the line on the reliability table applicable to the combined sample size.

The omission of an estimate of the low-valued shipments for any country indicates that there were no low-valued import shipments appearing in the 1 percent document sample for the country, and no estimate of low-valued shipments is included in the country total. This does not necessarily mean that low-valued imports were not made.

SITC COMMODITY GROUP INFORMATION

Commodity Information Summarized into SITC Groups

The commodity information in this report is presented in terms of the three-digit group codes of the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised. This commodity information represents the summarization of data for January-August 1963 originally compiled in accordance with the classifications in Schedule A, Statistical Classification of Commodities Imported Into the United States, combined with data for September-December 1963 originally compiled in accordance with classifications in Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA), an official publication of the Tariff Commission embracing the legal text of the Tariff Schedules of the United States together with statistical annotations. The table entitled "Imports of Merchandise for Consumption by SITC Section by SITC Group" shows the SITC section and group codes and their descriptions along with 1963 annual value totals for these classifications. The SITC section and group totals represent the sum of eight months data compiled in terms of Schedule A classifications combined with four months data compiled in terms of TSUSA classifications. Lists showing the correlation between the SITC and Schedule A classifications appeared in the January 1963 issue of this report while lists showing the correlation between the SITC and the TSUSA classifications appeared in the September 1963 issue of this report. Copies of these correlation lists may be obtained from the Bureau of the Census.

Some of the SITC group descriptions in this report are necessarily abbreviated to save printing costs and, therefore, in many cases they do not contain all of the qualifying information necessary to clearly define the commodity for which statistics are presented. For further definition of the SITC groups, reference should be made to the Standard International Trade Classification, Revised (United Nations Statistical Papers, Series M, No. 34, 1961). For definition of the individual Schedule A or TSUSA classifications included in the SITC groups, reference should be made to these schedules.

Low-valued Shipments Excluded From SITC Commodity Group Data

The import data for individual SITC groups (with the exception of SITC group 990, "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST") exclude information on imports valued under $100 reported on formal immediate consumption entries, imports reported on informal entries (by definition, valued not more than $250), and warehouse withdrawals for consumption valued under $100. It follows that the import statistics for the individual SITC groups, other than group 990, are undercounted to the extent that shipments of the commodity or commodities included in the SITC group are made in lots which are excluded from the commodity statistics under this policy. The total value so excluded from the individual groups amounts to about one percent of the monthly import total. Value estimates for the above-mentioned low-valued shipments, based on a one percent sample, are shown under each country with the SITC group code 990, "LOW VALUE DOLLAR EST." These estimates are also included in the Section 9 totals, the country totals and the over-all import total. Although subject to considerable sampling variability (see further explanation under "Country of Origin", above), these estimates may be of some interest as a rough guide to the general magnitude of the effect which the exclusion of the items has on the SITC group data for individual countries.

Data on SITC Basis for Periods Prior to 1963

With the change in presentation of commodity information in terms of SITC classifications effective January 1963, users of the statistics may wish to have information for periods prior to 1963 arranged in terms of the SITC, in order to make comparisons between the 1963 statistics and those for earlier periods. For 1962, publications have been prepared containing monthly and annual value totals in SITC group by country of origin arrangement and in country by SITC group arrangement. The monthly and annual data are presented in separate publications. These publications also contain correlation lists in Schedule A commodity number by SITC group arrangement and in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number arrangement. In addition, monthly and annual data in SITC group by Schedule A commodity number by country arrangement are contained in machine tabulations which are available for use at principal reference locations.

SOURCES OF FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT IMPORT STATISTICS

A complete discussion of the compilation procedures and coverage for import statistics will be found in the Foreword to the latest edition of Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States. (Copies are available for reference at public libraries.) Supplementary information and explanations of interest to users of foreign trade statistics (such as announcements of changes in types of shipments covered by current statistics, unusual shipments, problems of valuation and classification, changes in statistical procedures, etc.) which were formerly included in a separate publication, Foreign Trade Statistics Notes, are now being included as special announcements in current issues of this report and other statistical publications. Copies of such announcements are also attached to reference copies of tabulations, where appropriate. Data in this report are available for reference purposes prior to the publication of the report or may be obtained in advance of publication on payment of the cost of a special report. Reports providing additional detail compiled but not published can be obtained on a cost basis. For further information regarding reference copies of tabulations or the availability of special reports, request should be made to the Bureau of the Census.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and for entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.

Import data for arbitrary SITC group code 990 are estimates based on a 1% sample of informal entry shipments valued $1-$250 and formal entry shipments valued $1-$99. These estimated amounts are included in SITC section 9 total and in the country total. See the introduction of this report for an explanation of the sampling procedure and use of number of shipments in sample, shown immediately to the left of the double asterisk (), to determine the reliability of the estimate.
